Preface

Established on 13th August 2009, Kolhan University is the youngest and raring to go in the project of Jharkhand state Higher Education drive after it got carved out from Bihar. 1. Kolhan University offers under Graduate Programmes, Post Graduations programs. It is spread over the geographical jurisdiction of East Singhbhum, West Singhbhum and Seraikella Kharswan District with more than 80,000 students strength. The University is in the Scheduled Area and it is notify in "The Gazette of India EXTRAORDINARY, PART II-Section sub-section(i), PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY, New Delhi, Thursday, February 20, 2003/PHALGUNA 1, 1924. Law and Justice Ministry.

Kolhan University is situated in the "Schedule area of Jharkhand State where 60 percent of population are tribals". The University has already received 2f status from the UGC, and is now waiting for the status of 12B in order to be accrued with the power to surge forward in the field of higher studies and research. The crunch of Grant and the lack of official recognition as well are seriously hampering its development-dream and actualization, its possibility to flourish as a centre of prominent scholarship. Resuscitated by UGC help and support it can bring out radical changes in the field of Tertiary education in this backward belt of tribal populace. Since it is the only University around both for urban and rural students and scholars, its proper development becomes more necessary indeed.

Hence we seek your mediation and interventions in the revival and regeneration of this University as soon as possible, and we believe, you would be able to realize the significance of the matter of bringing back proper research and education to vibrant track with immediate effect.

The reasons that we see as for seeking 12B are as follow:-

As we look at the geographical location of the University we see it nestled in a wide, richly landscaped area in the outskirts of the district town Chaibasa, an ideal location for a teaching-learning institution. The serene tranquility of the space adds to the atmosphere of research and higher studies. The demography of the place establishes it as a center of tribal population with maximum number of Santhali, HO, Oraon, Munda tribes who had been deprived of education because of utter poverty and lack of awareness and opportunities as well. They can hardly afford to travel to Ranchi, and are able far less yet to stay there to pursue their higher studies there. Thus deprived from their choice of education they are coerced to skip their plans for fruitful, lucrative, and dependable career building, and this is how in the long run the development of the state also runs the risk of lagging behind in the broader cartography of country's higher education scenario. Proper growth of education will not only widen the mental horizons of these innocent, poor populace, it will enable them as we all know, to accure the financial health on personal level, community level and resultantly national level.

This area being wonderfully rich in wealth under the ground, mining with proper knowledge and ethics becomes a great source for the uplift of this state. Departments of mining and other ancillaries can be usefully conducted here. Thus the rich resources can be properly utilized generating more local employment and enlightenment.

Since Ranchi University caters mainly to elite and urban, for underprivileged and untapped talent this University is being a great help supporting to some extent the hitherto neglected tribal people to gain enlightenment in their chosen area. If the resources are taken care of the University can extend more help to its Department of tribal culture and studies to explore the specific areas regarding folk culture, language and heritage.

This University has acquired its own infrastructure and logistics and within these five years it has been successful in opening twenty two actively operating departments, in which research also takes a considerable part. UGC recommended course works are being operated for research scholars in different departments. To focus on the tribal culture which is an ancient heritage of our county this University is always ready to extend its help and space and expertise. Resources and guidance from UGC can help a lot more in this area.

Last but not the least, the Colleges that exist and work under this University, which are situated in towns like Jamshedpur, are suffering for the lack of funds as the status of 12B of UGC is hampering their academic progress.

Dr. (Prof.) R. P. P. Singh
Vice-Chancellor
Kolhan University, Chaibasa
West Singhbhum, Jharkhand

From the desk of Vice-Chancellor

The role of the VC is a great challenge when the institution is established in a far flung underdeveloped rural area, but the challenge get transformed in opportunity as I look at the University's profile and the development brought about by tedious efforts of the staff, faculty and official of the University.

The University being situated in the heart of this tribal belt, our focus is on the tribal populace, who are mostly poor and from rural backgrounds. Efforts are on to bring about both education and lifestyle enhancements in these students through different projects and programmes initiated by the University.

The region has scarcity of resources, and the challenges faced by the University at large are inherent. However, despite financial, personnel and resource crunch, we are trying our best to expedite development of all communities of students at this state University.

Though a fledgling institute, our dreams are big as we take long strides to realize the potential of the students of this area, so that they can ensure their presence in map of the youth development in India.

I am looking forward to the overall supervision of NAAC as I am on my track to develop this fledgling University in its nascent stage. Though our resources are minimal, to confess candidly, I am committed to bring in progress at all levels from infrastructure to academics to meet full fledged the requirements of NAAC. And I am quite confident that at the time of NAAC inspection, the University will be able to meet all the challenges more efficiently.

7.2 Innovations

7.2.1 Give details of innovations introduced during the last four years which have created a positive impact on the functioning of the university.

Innovation is a major driving force in increasing productivity which depends on several critical factors for growth. University introduces innovative courses in different departments focus on employability and research. State of the art equipment and Computer facilitate the teaching learning process. The university has adopted innovative strategies in teaching, learning in various measures such as advisor-advisee system, remedial teaching, the assembly programmes and streaming of the students according to their abilities. Different clubs like Eco Clubs, nature clubs, activate different innovative programmes for the students.

7.3 Best Practices

7.3.1 Give details of any two best practices which have contributed to better academic and administrative functioning of the university.

The University has taken a programme of revival of the art and culture of the tribal people on the point of extension like Chhau Dance.

Gender Sensitization and Human Rights are the other issues that highlight the best practices of the university.

Format for Presentation of Best Practices

1. Title of the Practice : The Revival of Chhau Dance

This title should capture the keywords that describe the practice.

2. Objectives of the Practice

What are the objectives / intended outcomes of this “best practice” and what are the underlying principles or concepts of this practice (in about 100 words)?

OBJECTIVE : To revive the tradition of the tribals of Seraikella, Mayurbhanj and Purulia which was on the verge of extinction.

CONCEPT : Concept of this dance form is to be physically healthy and to follow the Indian scriptures in its different stories.

OUTPUT : The idea is to rejuvenate the lost cultural glory of India and to take India cultural glory to the stage of the world.

3. The Context

What were the contextual features or challenging issues that needed to be addressed in designing and implementing this practice (in about 150 words)?

In the opinion of some people "Chhau" is a dialect which means six faces, Viz. fore head, eyes, nose, cheeks, lips and chin and a mask bears the six parts of the face. The word "Chhau" ordinarily means mask and because the dance is performed by use of mask, it is called "Chhau Dance".

The challenging issues in addressing this practice is to find the people with dancing ability and an urge for relocating Indian Tradition and Culture with proper kind of dimension. The challenge is also to face the unwilling youngsters of modern days to practice this old art.

4. The Practice

Describe the practice and its uniqueness in the context of India higher education. What were the constraints / limitations, if any, faced (in about 400 words)?

The themes of Chhau dances range from Indian mythological figures to everyday people and their lives, from aspects of the natural world to abstract expressions of thoughts and feelings. For example, the dance Mayur is the dance of a single peacock, Nabik portrays a couple rowing across a river to express the navigating of the river of life, and the poetic Ratri is a dance of the Moon with the night. Banabiddha shows the dance of the deer shot with an arrow and the famous Chandrabhaga portrays a young woman who commits suicide after having been pursued by the Sun God who has fallen in love with her. Thus, the flavor known in India as Rasa, of a dance, though expressed in the mask itself, comes about through the expression of character and life in the body of the dancer. The movements of Chhau is said to have as its origins the movements of the traditional martial art form Parikanda which uses a sword and shield. However, the present Chhau movements no longer seem to reflect those origins. Yet, following tradition a student of a dance still practice Parikanda every morning down by the river near Seraikella as a part of his training. Thus the martial movements which were once a part of the dance have disappeared, as the dance has become more refined leaving its influence only in the training.

The research on such interesting material will highlight and focus the unknown corner of Indian Cultural Practice which needs to be emphasized in these days of aping the Western Culture.

5. Evidence of Success

Provide evidence of success such as performance against targets and benchmarks, review results. What do these results indicate? Describe in about 200 words.

The Process and Practices is still in progress and the research has a long way to go to meet the benchmark of such unique programme.

6. Problems Encountered and Resources Required

Please identify the problems encountered and resources required to implement the practice (in about 150 words).

Problems encountered : Getting the students interested in such kind of research programmes is a big challenge. The Texts, songs, the particularities of dance forms which are almost forgotten now is another challenge. Getting the proper teacher for proper training of this ancient art is another challenge.

7. Notes

Optional. Please add any other information that may be relevant for adopting/ implementing the Best Practice in other institutions (in about 150 words).

Enough time is given for them to go to library for books and search internet and make presentations. Student presentation quality becomes the measure of their inputs and at the same time it gives feedback about the extent to which the objectives of the department have been met.

ii) We also plan to get feedback and suggestions from the students by feedback.

50. Briefly highlight the contributions of the department in generating new knowledge, basic or applied.

The research scholars of the department have undertaken research work on Major challenges related to Ethno botanical topics related to tribal peoples health and nutritional problems.

51. Detail five major Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Challenges (SWOC) of the department.

SWOC analysis of Post Graduate Department of Botany, K. U.

Strength:-

1. Kolhan University has been carved out of its parent university, Ranchi University in 2009 with a view to decentralise the centres’ of Post Graduation and research as per the vision and norms of UGC and Human Resource Department state of Jharkhand. Kolhan is a tribal rich region with population including ST, SC and OBC. The university will thus provide education to all inclusively.

2. The university department of Botany has to be set up from the beginning so it will not have the burden of old infra structure, out of date machines and equipments.
3. The region of Kolhan is very close to the world famous Saranda Forest. Saranda forest is a land of 700 hills with natural streams and rivers, dense flora and fauna. It is called a paradise for Botanists because of its rich floral diversity. It can provide a very sound base for Ethno-botanical studies and Eco-tourism.
4. The region of Kolhan is lagging behind in educational and economic development and the university and department of Botany can help in both areas of development
5. The teaching and non-teaching staff will have to be appointed so they are all going to be young, energetic and up to date persons.

Weakness:-

1. Being a new University there is lack of infrastructure and things have to be developed from a scratch. Classrooms, laboratories, research labs, libraries, hostels, canteens, auditoriums e-libraries playgrounds need to be developed.
2. The created and sanctioned posts of teaching and non-teaching staffs are still vacant.
3. This tribal region of Jharkhand is going to remain dominated by ST, SC, and OBC category students and use of their full potential requires special coaching in linguistics as well as academics.
4. The area is not much developed including growth of industries, which may lead to less campus placements.
5. Lack of employment is due to lack of training and skill development opportunities. The total number of students as also their quality would much depend on the quality improvement of school education also.

Opportunities:-

1. The departments of Kolhan university will get an opportunity to establish classrooms and laboratories and will have new and up to date equipments and machines and would be free from the burden of old furniture and instruments.
2. For its Botany department the nearby Saranda forests with its rich floral and species diversity presents ample opportunity for research in the field of traditional herbal medicines, ethno-botanical studies and mushroom studies.
3. Ecological and environmental studies can give good results in conservation of Saranda and Kolhan region. The department of Botany proposes to initiate P.G. and M.Phil and programme in the field of Ethnobotany, Environment protection studies and Eco-tourism.
4. The region of Kolhan is very close to the wo
5. The hills, hillocks, streams, rivers and the forest can provide a good opportunity for setting up Eco-tourism project. In coordination with various other departments it can provide employment and can generate state exchequer too. The hard working soft spoken local youth can be trained to become guide for the tourist.

Challenges:-

1. Infrastructure development due to lack of development grants from State and Central government can further delay the educational development of Kolhan region and is the major challenge.
2. Another equally important challenge is appointment of teaching and supporting staff by the state government.
3. Lack of programmes and facilities for training of technical staff and new teachers can hamper the quality of education.

4. The quality and number of students entering UG and PG programmes due to far from satisfactory school education scenario also becomes a challenge for higher education.

52. Future plans of the department.

Future plan of the P.G. Department of Botany K.U.

The department of Botany proposes to initiate P.G. and M. Phil and programme in the field of Ethno botany, Environment protection studies, and Mushroom culture.

A six months course on Eco-tourism for Botany students can be organised in Collaboration with the Forest department for the spots in Saranda. The students or eco-guides will explain the flora ,fauna and the importance of ecological aspects as well.

The region of Kolhan is very close to the world famous Saranda Forest. Saranda forest is a land of 700 hills with natural streams and rivers, dense flora and fauna. It is called a paradise for Botanists because of its rich floral diversity. It can provide a very sound base for Ethno-botanical studies and Eco-tourism and at the same time conserve the rich traditional knowledge as also the culture of Jharkhand.

This tribal region of Jharkhand has been lagging behind in academics as also in its share of development including economic growth. With the development of necessary infrastructure facilities of the university departments, appointment of teaching and supporting staff, well equipped laboratories and library with internet facility and remedial coaching the young girls and boys of kolhan region be able to grow to their full potentials and in turn participate in the development of the west singhbhum region. It may not be out of place to mention that kolhan university not only has students from Jharkhand but from the neighbouring state of Odisha also.

 51. Detail of five major Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Challenges (SWOC) of the department.

Strengths:

Government Support

Kolhan University is the University in the state of Jharkhand and the government has been always supporting the university. Political interference in the university matters is almost zero.

Conducive academic environment

65% percent literacy, very high life expectancy, social and religious harmony, peace loving people, disciplined student population, growth of service sector, mines and minerals based economy etc. create a very good academic environment for the Kolhan University to prosper.

Weaknesses:

Small catchment area

Catchment area for the University is limited. Kolhan being a small state, University is not able to attract more students from other States.

Inadequate Infrastructure

Infrastructure in terms of class rooms, big lecture halls, hostels, canteen facilities etc. is inadequate.

Opportunities:

Opportunity to attract Female Students

Female-male ratio is high in Kolhan compared to many other states. In Kolhan, there is no gender discrimination in terms of access to/providing higher education.

Opportunity to Attract Good faculty

Kolhan being a peace loving place and cosmopolitan in nature, can attract highly qualified faculty from the leading institutions in India.

Challenges

Difficulty in finding suitable candidates as faculty members

Qualified candidates with required API are not available for higher academic posts. There is difficulty in finding suitable candidates from reserved category as faculty members for the posts reserved for them.

Mushrooming of private institutions with false promises

Many private institutions are coming up with many promises. Students may be lured to these institutions expecting quick returns and University may lose good students.

Enclosure #02 : Item # 48: Beyond syllabus activities:

Literary translation work, especially in the region of Kolhan has immense possibilities. The department of English & CS has two papers on Indian Literature (Group 'B') of the M.A. syllabus: Paper XV: Indian Poetics and Paper XVI: Translations from Indian Literature which includes literary works in Sanskrit, Santhali, Odia, Bengali, Urdu and Hindi. The department also connects with tribal language writers particularly through the University Department of Tribal Regional Languages (TRL), which is an active academic partner.

Inter-disciplinary classroom exchanges, workshops and seminars, especially with the departments of the faculty which include six languages and some departments of the social science faculty is done. Psychoanalytic criticism, philosophical and sociological studies in the theoretical realm of academics is particularly feasible.

Students participate via exclusive students' notice board at the department, mock lectures, and creative- writing activities to prepare them for their examinations beyond their course as well as for the profession of teaching, which a good percentage of them opt for in this region.

Enclosure # 03: Item # 50: Briefly highlight the contributions of the department in generating new knowledge, basic or applied:

Basic English and Soft Skills, in consonance with regional linguistic demographical reality of the surrounding region is being explored for a better linguistic understanding that will make a base for further linguistic studies that would be done under the auspices of the department.

Folk theater and its academic study in the department, as part of its extended syllabus studies is in the pipeline for a wider academic perspective and regional inclusiveness. This has particular relevance to Paper XVI of the syllabus.

Collection and future anthologizing of oral literature and mythology is being considered of as significantly relevant and contributive to the pantheon of the Kolhan region as portions of which remain still unexplored. The department plans to make this an important field of work.

Enclosure # 04: Item # 51: SWOC:

Strengths:

- i) The teacher-taught ratio is good, providing a pedagogical condition wherein personal attention can and is given to students.
- ii) Rather, exceptionally, the syllabus has a dissertation paper of 100 marks (Paper XVI) in M.A.Part-II. Through this paper students acquire a basic knowledge of research and research methodology. Students are inspired to work deeper into the subject of their dissertation work making a base for research for Ph.D. This paper also serves as a 'Special Paper'.
- iii) The expansive and more inclusive literary study which is incorporated in the department's literary cultural studies is contemporaneously relevant and has immense scope for interdisciplinary work of academic and applied significance.
- iv) Pioneering efforts in a nascent university has helped build an accessibility and cooperation amongst all the elements of teaching and learning.
- v) Uninterrupted and peaceful atmosphere is a major strength for the department and the university.

Weaknesses:

- i) Insufficient infrastructural facilities slow down academic and pedagogical progression and progressiveness.
- ii) Library facilities are very much wanting.
- iii) Journal and other research and study necessities and aids are needed.
- iv) Classroom/lecture activities and provisions need to be improved upon much.
- v) English language proficiency in the student intake catchment area is poor and requires dire attention at lower learning levels as well as higher academic levels.

Opportunities and Challenges:

- i) To improve the literary analyses acumen of the students.
- ii) To improve and enhance the availability of reading and study material for textual and critical learning.
- iii) To facilitate increased opportunities for students in the region of Kolhan to enroll in the course offered by the department. The department needs to work upon this important factor for the promotion of studies in English.
- iv) To use extra-lecture methods, including audio-visual methods for a wider and more in-depth literary analysis. This will help students prepare for challenges that they face in a keenly competitive job market of positions in English teaching, including the very difficult NET Examination.
- v) To make dissertations and research work more relevant and challenging. Research must be thoroughly contributive and relevant to society at large.

Enclosure # 05: Item # 52: Future Plans:

- i) To include various theoretical studies within the field of cultural studies. These would include film studies, socio-cultural analyses of communicational means and media, ethnic studies that would be specializing in indigenous cultures and of the region in particular. A workshop to consider these matters of socio-academic concern is being presently worked upon by the department.

- ii) To establish a complementing section of studies of theater. This may be done in collaboration with established theatrical groups and departments of English at universities like Viswa Bharati and University of Hyderabad that have a flourishing theater studies. The department may also be able to work with the proposed Music and Fine Arts Department of the university in the future.
- iii) The department, in the larger benefit of the region must consider being a department of English and Cultural Studies under the umbrella of the School of Languages and Humanities. This would facilitate among other things a department of Linguistics that would offer a postgraduate course in Linguistics. i.e. an M.A.in Linguistics.
- iv) In 2014 Dr. R.S.Dayal was in contact with a teaching faculty member of the University of Tucson in Arizona, USA and the possibility of collaborative studies and exchange was explored as a possibility. This may be delved into in tandem with the policy and academic feasibility of the Kolhan University for the department.
- v) Networking with other universities, particularly in the eastern region, to enhance our perspectives on the study of literature per se and of the region would make the departmental academics more applicable.

The Urdu language has the qualities to attract and impress every human being.

Therefore the department focus on basics of urdu language. We in the best way try to improve students grammer and linguistics. We incourage them to consult different magazines and journals so that they could update themselves.

We also plan to get feedback and suggestion from the students.

Anex-VII

Strength :-

Urdu Language is one of the most popular Indian language which has power to attract people. Kolhan University has established Urdu Department right from the beginning.

Although most of the Kolhan University Urdu students belong to weaker section still they are very laborious and producing good results.

Large number of Students preceeding for Ph. D. in Urdu

Students are so motivated that they continue there education even after marriages, family burden and their work.

Weekness :-

Kolhan University being very young organisation is unable to provide enough infrastructure to their students.

Shortage of Classroom and library

Shortage of faculty

Poor socio economic status of students lead to high drop out ratio

Opportunities :-

In Urdu we have unlimited opportunities in the field of Education, Journalism, Film and Television and Interpretationership ec.

Different methods of teaching help to acquire in-depth knowledge in the subject NUSSD class serve as a boon for skill development of students.

Challenges:-

Lack of motivation from parents regarding education for students is the biggest challenge

Increasing access to reading materials in Urdu to improve language skills.

Future Plans :-
